In Person and Virtual “Private” Workshops

StudentsLive is happy to work with any group of 20 or more to custom design an In-Person Workshop led by a Broadway Guest Artist and Artistic Director, Amy Weinstein. We also offer Virtual Workshops upon request. StudentsLive typically produces a Two-Hour Workshop to ensure everyone has the utmost attention and time, pending class size. We can also offer a 60 or 90 minute Workshop option. After an introduction to the Show and Guest Artists, students learn music, acting and choreography from our Broadway Guest. Each student will individually spotlight their work if they choose or showcase as a group for feedback from our Guest Artist. We end with an insightful Question and Answer session with our Broadway Artist learning about "Behind the Scenes" and Careers on Broadway and an opportunity to take a group photo.

The In-Person and Virtual Workshops are individually modified, coordinated and designed. If In-Person you may choose a Broadway Show and date or dates with time options that work for your group. StudentsLive will also book your group discounted Broadway Show tickets (subject to availability). We will confirm tickets are available at the price range we send you and that you request, and that the date and time for your Workshop works for us and proceed with the Workshop Studios and Broadway Artists we select. For our standard Workshops, we send a comprehensive info sheet and any other relevant materials approximately one week in advance so that everyone can be fully prepared for the Workshop.

All Workshops take place at our professional Broadway Rehearsals Studios in the Times Square area within walking distance to the theaters. They can be paired to the below sample of current Broadway shows or any Broadway show of your choice. Shows are constantly changing and updating so please check with us directly for the current list of Broadway Shows. Or you may participate in one of our Award Winning Workshops without attending a Broadway Show. Those stand-alone Workshops include a range of content from past or existing Broadway Show Materials and Artists.
